

Hannah

Hannah is usually a very quiet young lady. She is very eager to ride her horse, though, so once she gets to the barn, you can engage her in conversation fairly easily. Hannah is another Rider that when she smiles, she can light up the room! Put her on her horse, Patches, and she beams. She has been at Chakota for 6 years now. Hard to believe time has gone by so quickly, but one of the perks of Chakota is getting to watch these amazing kids grow up!

Hannah is physically capable of riding her horse but her side-walkers stay by her side during her ride to, not only ensure her safety, but to interact and play games with her. They help enhance her ride by following her Instructors lead for interacting socially, stretching, and they even hold onto her while she does her sensory trot around the arena.

Hannah doesn't like a lot of noise, so the new arena space is proving to be invaluable for her. She isn't distracted by activities of others and seems very content. Her Mom would like to see Hannah become an independent Rider someday! So we here at Chakota will do everything we can to do to help them both realize that dream!
